

A diving project was sabotaged and the boat wrecked. The surviving members were rescued by a Pagan community living on a tranquil island of the Woa. The two divers became separated, one went through the rituals of becoming an islander and marrying the girl who saved his life and the other was convicted and sentenced to death for a crime he did not commit. When the divers are reunited they found themselves in a fight to save the community they had unknowingly brought destruction to. This took them to realms they could never have dreamed of, in a fast moving adventure of love and terror.
