

Selena Morgan is controlled by fear. Almost every waking moment is spent with a sense of dread that something ominous is just around the corner. This dread has sentenced Selena to living her self-absorbed life in dull routine and with a painful lack of relationships. Rather than experience life, she spends each day just trying to get through it--each day that is, until today. Today, she finally hears a message she has been receiving for years when she meets a stranger who gives her a gift shes waited for all her life. The message of Jasons Gift has special relevance for our time. When the world seems such a fearful and complicated place, this story reminds us that the most complicated problems can have the simplest answers. In the end, it all revolves around one choice. Do you have the courage to make it?
