

This boxed set of six books contains Frost in May by Antonia White; The Enchanted April by Elizabeth von Arnim; Diary of a Provincial Lady by E.M. Delafield; The Return of the Soldier by Rebecca West; The Age of Innocence by Edith Wharton and The Edwardians by Vita Sackville West. In The Enchanted April, a discreet advertisement in The Times is the prelude to a revelatory month for four very different women. In The Diary of a Provincial Lady the delights and frustrations of provincial life are conveyed with charm and humour by one of the most popular heroines in 20th century literature. The Return of the Soldier is Rebecca West's first novel exploring the nurturing and life-sustaining force of women in a world governed by the destructive powers of man. All that was best in fashionable society at the height of the Edwardian era - and all that was to lead to its downfall - is explored through the lives of Sebastian and Viola in The Edwardians. The Age of Innocence is critical, compassionate and perceptive about both the individual and the defensiveness of society. Frost in May, Antonia White's most famous novel is much more than a school story: it is a lyrical account of the death of a soul.

Cronicas del fin de un mundo (Spanish Edition), Georgian Poetry 1911 - 1912, The House of the Four Winds, Unsuhrbar (German Edition), A complete collection of the papers relating to the union of the Kings and Marischal colleges of Aberdeen: ...,
